A few words about Salisbury

With deep roots in California Farming (since 1850!), the Salisbury Family has come to know fruit and the microclimates in which they do best.

Avila Valley's coastal region is ideal for cool weather grapes like our exquisite Pinot Noir and Chardonnay. Our vineyard in Paso Robles thrives in the warmer weather and produces luscious Zinfandel and Cabernet grapes.

Our Tasting Room & Wine Bar is in an old two-room schoolhouse. The historic Santa Fe school was dedicated in 1907 and closed in 1964. It deteriorated over the next four decades until the Salisbury family began renovating it over the last four years. Today, the building is beautifully restored.
